DEPARTMENT OF GEMEN D BUDGE

JANET E. PHIPPS. DIRECTOR

Lewis Cass Building P.O. Box 30026 Lansing, MI 48909 Phone: (517) 373-1004

MARY A. LANNOYE. STATE BUDGET DIRECTOR

Lewis Cass Building P.O. Box 30026 Lansing, MI 48909 Phone: (517) 373-4978

The Department of Management and Budget has legal authority under the Management and Budget Act, Public Act 431 of 1984, as amended. The department is the summation of the former Department of Administration, which was created by Public Act 51 of 1948, as well as functions that had been under the Office of the Governor, such as budgeting, that were transferred by Executive Order No. 1973-7.

The Department of Management and Budget is an interdepartmental service and management agency responsible for providing financial management, property management, capital facility development, procurement, retirement and related benefits, employee benefits programs, accounting and payroll functions, demographic functions, geographic information, systems development, and office support services to state agencies. The State Budget Director prepares, presents, and executes the state budget on behalf of the governor.

The director of the department and the state budget director are appointed by the governor. The directors, deputy directors, and staff provide program and policy direction for the department and monitor program execution to ensure efficiency and effectiveness of departmental operations. The following organizational units administer the responsibilities of the department.

Until recently, the director of the Department of Management and Budget had served concurrently as the department director and state budget director. In January 1998, the governor named a separate state budget director. The scope of the management responsibilities and Michigan's position as one of the nation's leading industrial states necessitated that the responsibilities for the budget and management functions of the department be separated.

Under the guidance of the two directors, the Department of Management and Budget continues to focus on its commitment to meet the needs of the citizens of the State of Michigan, efficiently and effectively.

Director

The Office of Administrative Services provides centralized financial, human resources and information systems administration for the department; establishes and maintains financial and human resources systems; advises departmental management on administrative problems and alternate solutions; processes the necessary documents for financial and personnel transactions; and develops and supports information systems for the department's organizational units.

The Office of Computing and Telecommunications provides services to all state agencies in the areas of centralized mainframe computing support for development and production systems; and design, installation, and maintenance of voice, data, video and radio networks.

The Office of Design and Construction is responsible for administering the state capital outlay program, which includes major construction, special maintenance and miscellaneous operating projects. The planning activities associated with these projects require professional architectural, engineering, and project management services for state facilities; selecting and surveying sites for new state facilities; surveying and evaluating existing state buildings and recommending procedures for maintenance and repair; and reviewing plans and inspecting state facilities to assure compliance with applicable laws and regulations. The office is responsible for preparing bidding documents, reviewing bids, and making recommendations for bid awards. During construction, the office provides administration and inspection services to achieve functional and cost-effective completion of these projects.

The Office of Information Technology Solutions uses core process analysis to identify information technology and customer improvement opportunities to enable state agencies to work collaboratively on enterprisewide, information technology development efforts. It is also responsible for the development of statewide information processing and telecommunications plans, policies and standards.

The Office of Michigan Information Network and the Michigan Information Network Advisory Board were created by Executive Order No. 1995-14. The Michigan Information Network will link all public schools, community colleges, public and independent higher educational universities, and public libraries. The network will be used for remote arraignments, telemedicine, and distance learning applications.

The Office of Project Management assesses agencies' project management needs; provides direct project management assistance with reengineering efforts, resource allocation and quality assurance; establishes and maintains pre-qualified contractors to assist agencies with projects; and provides consulting services for agencies' needs.

The Office of Property Services administers, develops, and coordinates all building services in state-owned facilities (except state hospitals, institutions, and parks) including maintenance, health and safety, environmental, security, parking, and custodial. Additional functions within state-owned facilities include operation and maintenance of the physical plant and building equipment, grounds and related premises maintenance and improvements; space assignment; and design. The division also provides staff support to the Michigan Capitol Park Commission.

The Office of Purchasing is responsible for the procurement of supplies, materials, equipment, and services used by state agencies. The office is also responsible for executing statewide contracts and ensuring compliance with all applicable policies, procedures, and statutes. The office also extends its state purchasing services to local units of government, local school districts, intermediate school districts, nonprofit hospitals, institutions of higher education, and community and junior colleges.

The Real Estate Division obtains and manages contracts for all state-leased space. In addition, the division is responsible for the selling of state surplus property, the acquisition of real estate, the granting and receiving of easements, and jurisdictional transfers.

The Office of Retirement Services administers retirement systems encompassing employees and retirees of the public schools, the State of Michigan, state police, and judges. In addition, the office administers the basic social security agreement of 1951 for all public employees in Michigan. Policy direction is provided by the Judges' Retirement Board, Public School Employees' Retirement Board, and the State Employees' Retirement Board.

The Office of Support Services provides state agencies with centralized office support services in the areas of print and graphic services; mail and delivery; mainframe output print services; and publishes and distributes publications. In addition, it is responsible for the disposal of surplus state property, operation of the federal surplus property program, confidential records destruction and paper recycling program, and provision of long- and short-term storage space. The office is also responsible for microfilming and records management.

The Vehicle and Travel Services Division controls and supervises the acquisition, operation, maintenance, repair, and replacement of state-owned vehicles, and operates the central fleet of motor vehicles used by state agencies in the conduct of state business. The office also administers travel policies, procedures and regulations.

The Year 2000 Project Office is responsible for overseeing and facilitating agency efforts to achieve Year 2000 operability of critical computer applications by December 31, 1998 and all remaining applications by December 31, 1999. The office is also responsible for promoting awareness of the Year 2000 problem, identifying any system areas that would inhibit successfully solving this problem, and ensuring that solutions are found and implemented.

State Budget Director

The State Budget Director serves as the governor's primary advisor on fiscal matters. The Office of the State Budget is responsible for developing the Executive Budget recommendation, presentation of the budget to the legislature, and implementation of the budget after enactment. The State Budget Director is appointed by the governor and is a member of the governor's cabinet. The office oversees the activities of the Budget Offices, the Office of Financial Management, the Michigan Administrative Information Network, and Michigan Information Center.

Budget is organized into the following four offices.

The Office of Budget Development and General Government coordinates and supports the preparation and dissemination of the executive budget, including management of information systems required to support the budget's development. The office prepares transfer and supplemental requests for submission to the legislature, and monitors their progress through the review and approval process. The office is also responsible for budgetary analysis of general government operations.

The Office of Education and Infrastructure has responsibility for developing and analyzing the portions of the executive budget related to education and transportation development issues. These budgets include the school aid budget for K-12, the Department of Education, state universities, financial aid, community colleges, and the Department of Transportation.

The Office of Health and Human Services and Economic Development is responsible for preparation of the executive budget recommendations for the health and human services and economic development areas of the state budget. This includes the Department of Community Health, the Family Independence Agency, and other health-related expenditures of state government such as health care costs for active workers, retired workers, and retired school personnel. The office also includes budgeting responsibilties for the Department of Consumer and Industry Services, the Department of Career Development, and the Michigan Strategic Fund

The Office of Public Protection and Resources is responsible for the preparation of the executive recommendations for the criminal justice and environmental and resource management components of the state budget. These areas include the Departments of Corrections, Military and Veterans Affairs, State Police, and the Judiciary branch. The office also develops recommendations for the Departments of Natural Resources, Environmental Quality, and Agriculture.

The Office of Financial Management has overall responsibility for the state's accounting and payroll functions and related systems. The office is responsible for performing central accounting and payroll control activities; developing and issuing statewide financial management and accounting policies; maintaining the central vendor/payee file; advising state agencies on the application of generally accepted accounting principles and the use of the state accounting system; maintaining a comprehensive system of internal controls in the management of the state's financial affairs; monitoring compliance by agencies with state accounting policies; and preparing periodic financial reports, including the State of Michigan Comprehensive Annual Financial Report (SOMCAFR).

The Michigan Administrative Information Network (MAIN) is responsible for the operation of an integrated, automated accounting, financial management, and personnel and payroll system for the State of Michigan.

The Michigan Information Center provides user consultation regarding data availability and applicability, as well as training activities for its Michigan State Data Center Program (MSDCP) state affiliate network. The Michigan Information Center focuses on Michigan data, as well as receiving and archiving census data for the region, other states, and the nation. It also produces and analyzes population statistics, and coordinates the acquisition, processing, and dissemination of census and population information to meet data needs in the state. The Michigan Information Center specializes in Geographic Information Systems (GIS) and computer mapping technologies.

Office of Children's Ombudsman

The Office of Children's Ombudsman was created by Act 204 of 1994 as an autonomous entity within the Department of Management and Budget. The Ombudsman is appointed by, and serves at the pleasure of, the governor. The Office of Children's Ombudsman was created as a means of monitoring and ensuring compliance with relevant statutes, rules, and policies pertaining to children's protective services and the placement, supervision, and treatment of children in foster care and adoptive homes.

Michigan Economic Development Corporation

The Michigan Economic Development Corporation (MEDC) was created by an interlocal agreement between the Michigan Strategic Fund and participating public agencies. The president and chief executive officer of the corporation is hired by the Executive Committee of the MEDC board.

The corporation is responsible for all of the state's economic development efforts. The MEDC has three primary goals: to retain and attract jobs, improve Michigan's business climate, and grow businesses for the future.

External Relations consists of various units designed specifically to work with various organizations outside of state government that also work with Michigan's businesses. Small Business Outreach works with small businesses to provide information and assistance. Michigan's Renaissance Zones are virtually tax-free areas for any business or resident presently in or moving to a zone. Currently, 11 regions of the state are designated as zones. The following taxes are exempt in the Renaissance Zones: Michigan Single Business Tax, Michigan Personal Income Tax, Michigan's 6-mill State Education Tax, Local Personal Property Tax, Local Real Property Tax, Local Income Tax, and Utility Users Tax.

Public Affairs is the office responsible for marketing Michigan primarily outside of Michigan. They ensure that various consultants and industries in other states have a positive image of Michigan's business climate.

The Business Development Office's primary objective is to grow businesses for Michigan's future. Michigan Business Development works specifically with instate businesses and local communities to assist them with retention and expansion of their businesses. Global Business Development works with companies outside the state, nationally and internationally, to attract business with Michigan.

The Business Services Office includes the federal Small Cities Community Development Block Grant program that provides funding to local communities for economic development and infrastructure needs. It also includes the Michigan Business Ombudsman Office which serves as an advocate for business within the structure of state government. The business ombudsman cuts through red tape to get quick answers to questions, to expedite the permit process, and to solve problems. This office also includes services for businesses looking to export their products and assists communities with Industrial Development Revenue Bonds (IDRBs).

Technology and Productivity works very closely with Michigan's targeted industries through their Business Roundtables by listening closely to what Michigan's businesses need to grow and expand. The Economic Development and Job Training program helps businesses in partnership with local community colleges and other educational institutions to assure that workers maintain their technical skills and learn new skills for emerging markets. Also in this office is the Michigan Virtual University, which is the largest computer-based learning institution in the country.

Office of the State Employer

The Office of the State Employer was created by Executive Order No. 1988-6 within the Department of Management and Budget. The director of the office is appointed by and serves at the pleasure of the governor. The office carries out the central labor relations responsibilities as the employer of the state classified work force; and represents the governor, the executive branch departments and agencies, and the legislative auditor general in all employee relations matters. The office also administers employee benefits programs for classified and unclassified state employees and retirees, including administration of life, health, vision, and dental insurance plans; flexible spending accounts; and continuation of insurance coverage. The office provides health screenings to state employees, retirees, and their spouses who are enrolled in the State Health Plan; and administers the state's Quality Recognition System. The office is also responsible for all activities associated with workers' compensation, long-term disability, disability management, return to work, safety and health, health promotion, and employee services.
